WHAT: A roundtable of special education consultants and advocates provide practical and helpful information for your exceptional child's upcoming school year. Detailed information and practical advice will be provided on methods to improve your child's support plan at school (including academic, therapeutic, and positive behavioral supports). Presenters will provide practical advice on effective communication with your school team and management of documentation. Moreover, this panel of educational specialists will review offer strategies to effectively navigate Response to Intervention (RTI), Section 504, and Individualized Education Program (IEP) processes.

Space is limited to no more than 120 participants. Coffee, tea, and light breakfast will be offered.

WHO: The Advocacy Group (TAG) is a professional consortium of Chicagoland's premier advocates and consultants who are dedicated to meaningful outcomes for all children and young adults with disabilities. The speakers include individuals with a broad range of award winning instructional, administrative, and legal experience in public education. These individuals share a common goal to improve services and outcomes for all students, regardless of their exceptionalities.
